Boston, Mass., October 9.—In a driving, storming battle that tore the heart out of 32,000 ans, cracked the nerve system of both ball clubs, nd left every one in sight in a half-crazed frenzy, Soston and New York swept into the edge of dusk o-night to an eleven-inning tie.

The score was 6 to 6 when Silk O'Loughlin suspended play and called both clubs to meet again on the same battlefield to-morrow. Mathewson, pitching his soul out, saw his ball club crack around him and present the Red Sox legion wan ave gift runs. One run they earned from his pitching, and fast fielding would have thrown even this aside, for every scoring hit was made after

The great gap in the Giant defense both broke and rallied only to break said strort, where Art Fletcher broke and rally again. New York led in the fierceness of her hitting, and Boston in the brilliancy of the defensive play, only a fair defensive game, accepting only a fair defensive game, accepting the normal chances, Mathewson line and Hall fully until Lewis cracked there caved in and broke as no other the side should have been retired.
